OPENING NIGHT EVENT

Voices and Perspectives of Occasional Teachers: Navigating Challenging Times, Reclaiming Respect, and Prioritizing Wellness

Moderator Paula Carmichael will lead a timely panel discussion with occasional teacher (OT) peers, each bringing unique perspectives. How can OTs create space for self-care and advocacy to counter challenging working conditions and ensure they are best serving students and families? The conversation will aim to explore realistic ideas that promote professional excellence, well-being, safety, and the authentic value of qualified, “real” teachers, in schools during these unique times.
